

ASIS providing FREE tickets to Veterans

(Post 9/11) for Wednesday Sep. 12th, 2012

=====

Are you a transitioning veteran and interested in exploring a career in Security Industry? ASIS International the preeminent organization for security professionals has offered Greater Philadelphia Veterans Network (GPVN) 20 FREE tickets for local veterans (post 9/11) to attend their upcoming Annual Seminar Wed September 12th, at the Pennsylvania Convention Center. The selected veterans will spend the day learning about the Security industry and the career paths that it can provide.

The opportunity to attend this event is a critical step in the 'career exploration' process for veterans. For veterans seeking to enter into the security profession, this event will allow them to better understand the various jobs within this industry. It allows local veterans to connect with security professionals, attend seminars and job searching sessions. Also for those who are transitioning out of the service, this will be an ideal setting to learn how to network.

To qualify you must:

- Be a Veteran who separated after 9/11
- Complete online form: <http://tinyurl.com/d4nbbrg>
- And email a copy of your DD214 to gpvinfo@gmail.com

REGISTRATION DEADLINE IS THURSDAY AUGUST 30th

ASIS International is holding its 58th Annual Seminar and Exhibits, September 10-13, 2012 in Philadelphia. More than 20,000 security professionals from both the public and private sectors will convene at ASIS 2012, the most comprehensive education and networking event in the security industry and the leading show dedicated to security. You'll find the most valuable information, connections, and technology solutions available at the only event with the power of ASIS International, the world's largest and most influential organization for security management professionals, behind it.

The complimentary registration is for Wednesday, September 12 and includes:

- Candid insights from keynote Robert Gates, Secretary of Defense (2006-2011), from 8:00 am – 9:00 am.
- Dozens of timely education sessions and tracks to choose from—including homeland security, government/military, crime/loss prevention, investigations, and information security.

- The exhibit hall showcasing innovative security technologies, products, and services from more than 700 companies.
- Opportunities for peer-to-peer connections with professionals from around the globe.

For complete Seminar and Exhibits information visit go to: www.asis2012.org.

For any questions please email Greater Philadelphia Veterans Network: gpvinfo@gmail.com

=====

Greater Philadelphia Veterans Network (GPVN) is a non-profit organization whose primary mission is to provide pre-employment education and career services to transitioning military service members and local veterans; to ensure veterans have programs and initiatives available to help accelerate their job search; and to generate job leads by networking with business leaders in the Greater Philadelphia area who are looking to hire vets. GPVN also offers Veteran Entrepreneurship Events, Hiring Veterans Workshops for local companies and Vet to Vet Volunteering.

www.gpvn.org / gpvinfo@gmail.com